After a lot of discussion between the City of Cherryville and the Cherryville Historical Association a decision has been made concerning the future of the museum. As of today, Board President Al Putnam and Treasurer Lorie Pruitt have voted to amend the by-laws of the association and resign from the board. The Cherryville City Council will now accept applications for all interested parties to serve on the Cherryville Historical Association board. Applications can be obtained from Paige Green, City Clerk. The Cherryville City Council will have the responsibility of approving the new board for the museum.

The City intends to have the museum continue to operate at 109 E. Main Street. All artifacts are encouraged to remain at the museum and the newly appointed board will display as they see fit.

The City of Cherryville and the current board (Mr. Putnam and Mrs. Pruitt) have put a lot of time and effort into ensuring that the best possible outcome was reached for the Cherryville Historical Museum. We feel that the museum will experience a positive future with this new agreement.

Respectfully,
